INTERNATIONAL CENTERS FOR SCHOLARSHIP AND COLLABORATION

Notre Dame Global Gateways are academic and intellectual centers where scholars, students, and leaders from universities, government, business, and the broader community gather to discuss issues of topical and enduring relevance.

Each Global Gateway is a place where the Notre Dame community and its many international colleagues work together to advance knowledge across all disciplines with a view to the common good.

Currently situated in Beijing, Chicago, Dublin, Jerusalem, London, and Rome, the Global Gateways are located in some of the most important cities of the world, projecting Notre Dame into a global context and welcoming the world to Notre Dame.

LOCAL FOCUS GLOBAL IMPACT

Notre Dame has a long and deep tradition of active engagement around the globe. Our international collaborations continue to illuminate research questions, driving educational programs across many disciplines and strengthening the University's position as a world-class research institution. Further expanding and deepening our international partnerships and relationships remains a priority for the University.

Through the Global Gateways, the University offers international venues for networking and exchange, whether it be meetings, conferences, seminars, classes, public lectures, readings, recitals, or book launches.

AN INVITATION TO ENGAGE

Each Global Gateway has dedicated faculty who can help develop and host academic programs, and staff who can facilitate local contacts, manage event logistics, and identify and assist with other administrative details.

We invite you to consider how the Global Gateways can facilitate your international academic endeavors.

BEIJING

The Notre Dame Global Gateway in Asia is located in the New Oriental South Building, in the center of Beijing's university district. It is the base for expanding Notre Dame's academic programs and collaborations with universities, corporations, and government organizations throughout Asia.
